

"NORTHCLIFFE, MAN-HUNTER"

Carson Attacks Him as Absentee Sah Capitalist.

BELFAST, Sept. 2.—Sir Edward Carson, in opening a new anti-Home Rule campaign last night, made a fierce attack upon Viscount Northcliffe, the newspaper proprietor, whom he styled as "the greatest absentee Irish capitalist and the richest example of an Irishman who ever sold the Union has made untold wealth in England."

"He dear loves man hunting," said

Sir Edward. "He hunted Earl Kitchener, Field Marshal Viscount French, Viscount Jellicoe, Viscount Milner and J. Austin Chamberlain, and more recently Premier Lloyd George. I have thought this over, and I believe I have found a solution to the question. It is to make Viscount Northcliffe Prime Minister."

New Zealand Parliament Ratifies Peace Treaty.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Tuesday, Sept. 2.—The Peace Treaty with Germany was unanimously ratified today by Parliament after members of the Labor Party had criticized the pact.

Snappiest, Zippiest, Jazziest, Is Sergt. Robbie Burn's Bazooka

The bazooka is the last word in jazz. Sergt. Burn invented it, and plays it. You can hear the Melody Six, including Sergt. Burn and the bazooka, any day you want to drop around to the Marine Corps recruiting office at No. 24 East 23d Street. Lieut. Harry W. Miller says they are going to be a great help to him in the campaign recently inaugurated to bring the Marines up to authorized war strength. According to tales told by the Marines, the Melody Six are the snappiest zippiest, jazziest aggregation of tune artists in any branch of Uncle Sam's service.

"We play," says Robbie Burn, "everything from Berlin (Irving) to Mr. Beethoven and will tackle anything except a funeral march. The outfit consists of two violins, a banjo, piano, drum and the bazooka."

The United States Marine Corps Melody Six is (or are) back from Europe, including Sergt. Robert Burn and bazooka.

CAPITAL 'COPS' TALK STRIKE.

Will Fight Orders That They Must Resign From Union.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Washington policemen to-day declared they will fight the order of the District of Columbia Commissioners that officers must resign from a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor or leave the force.

Court action may be started to prevent the Commissioners putting their order into effect.

City officials declare that if there is a strike by policemen, means will be found for protecting the capital, presumably by soldiers.

Crinolines and hoops in the new dance frocks

Swirl of dances which make a glorious end to the young woman's all-too-short summer vacation are far too important for tag-end-of-the-season frocks.

Fashion ideas as to silhouette, which are certain to remain, should be introduced to herald in the season ahead of us.

This daring frock by Lanvin, called "Cassanova" after the Italian adventurer, suggests our new dance frocks.

Hoops which recall Goya's Spanish beauties of by-gone days, will play an important role in evening frocks.

Crinolines, hoops, panniers have been borrowed from demure young girls and gay French courts of long ago. Wasp waists of those days, too, is suggested to accentuate the bouffant skirts.

Radium, taffeta, net, lace, satin, and now and then gorgeous brocades, are used in these frocks. Colors express every mood from the most brilliant and gay to a mouse-like quiet.

Wide range of prices can suit any pocket-book. $29.75, $37.50, $42.50, $52.50, $65, $79.50 to $175.

Second floor, Old Building.

Simple, well-groomed
smart little hats

Specially purchased from a manufacturer who was eager to begin his Autumn season, which enables us to mark them at the moderate price of $14.

They are those simple, smart and well-groomed little hats that depend upon good material and clever simplicity of design for their effect.

The purchase includes large, small and medium shapes in panne velvet, panne and Lyons velvet combinations, and in smart taffetas.

Ostrich trimmings and glycerined ostrich are featured, and besides these the soft breast and wing trimmings, becoming to the matron.

There are some becoming draped turbans—the sort that look so well with tailored serge suits and frocks.

Light taffeta facings, in rose, old blue and beige distinguish others.

Prettiest dinner sets of American porcelain

IN THE CHINA SALE

"Why should I buy imported china," said a woman yesterday, "when I can get such a pretty dinner set of American porcelain in your September sale for $15?"

The porcelain is quite light in weight. And thin. It is made from the same sort of clay as English porcelain sets. Shapes are standard. Patterns are very pleasing. Don't know whether we shall be able to satisfy the month's demand for them—judging from the first day's sales. We opened the sale with

More than a thousand sets, $13.50 up at savings of 10 to 40 per cent.

They come from 10 of the best potteries in the United States. Enough variety in pattern to satisfy virtually everybody. Three at $15 the set (every set, by the way, has 107 pieces, and sample sets are laid out—each on a long table, so that you may see at a glance how it will look on your dining table).

Set with coin gold handles for as little as $25.
